◆ DARWIN TULIPS ◆

The grace and beauty of bright Darwin Tulips is unsurpassed by any other spring flower. Many varieties can be forced in the home, some of them quite early. The colorful flowers are cup-shaped with a flat base, usually blue or white inside, or a combination of these colors. With the Darwins we list also the Ideal Darwins, a new group containing many fine shades. In our section the Darwins bloom from May 15 to 20.

◆ BREEDER TULIPS ◆

Giant Breeder Tulips are somewhat similar to the Darwins but there is a great difference in the coloring. The Breeders are mostly “art colored”—bronzy, brown, violet, and purple colors, and in the newer varieties orange plays a part. The outer petals have a beautiful bloom similar to the shade of ripe plums or grapes. In western New York they are usually at the height of their glory from May 18 to 28. Most of the flowers are globular and have a round base. The richness of tone as well as sheer stately dignity will eventually open all garden gates for the Breeders, and we strongly recommend planting them.

Narcissi for Growing in Water

PAPER-WHITE GRANDIFLORA

10 bulbs $1.00, 100 for $9.00

Start the bulbs Nov. 10 or later. Place in a cool dark room where the temperature will be about 48° F. Keep water level with base of bulbs. When well rooted, which takes about three weeks, set in a cool window. The bulbs will then bloom in about eighteen days. Not suitable for outdoor planting.

GIANT EXHIBITION HYACINTHS

Our experience has proved that this exhibition size is ideal for both garden and indoor culture. Plant in October, 6 inches deep. A sunny location is best, in any good enriched garden soil that has been spaded deep. For consistently good results, the florets should be stripped from the main stem after blooming. Do not cut the foliage; allow it to die down naturally. The bulbs can be left undisturbed.

FLOWERING HYACINTHS INDOORS

Bulbs should be potted in early October. Use loamy soil and a pot at least 4 inches deep, with drainage. Water thoroughly after planting. Place in a cool fruit cellar (temperature 50° F.) and keep consistently moist; or bury the pot 6 inches deep in a trench outside and mulch heavily after a frost of 2 inches. Bring the pots indoors any time after January 10. Set in a cool window (not over a radiator) and water daily. A succession of blooms can be had until Easter.

Use L'Innocence, Bismarck, and Pink Pearl for early forcing; other varieties can be forced later.

Giant Exhibition Hyacinths

10 Bulbs $2.00; 100 for $19.00

Illustrated on opposite page. From bottom of picture up, the varieties are:

L'INNOCENCE. Large, glistening white spikes. Very fine.

CITY OF HAARLEM. Soft golden yellow.

PRINCESS MARGARET. Large, perfectly formed, delicate soft pink flower.

MYOSOTIS. A beautiful soft blue. Well-shaped, long truss.

GRAND MAITRE. Deep porcelain-blue. Large, well-formed spike.

GERTRUDE. A very lovely rose-pink. Well-shaped, compact bloom.

BISMARCK. Large, well-spaced flower of bright sky-blue.

JAN BOS. The best red Hyacinth, with lighter-centered bells.

PINK PEARL. (Not illustrated.) A fine deep rose-pink variety.

BULB CULTURE TULIPS, HYACINTHS AND DAFFODILS

Upon arrival of the bulbs, open bags and keep in a cool dry place until planting time.

WHEN TO PLANT: The ideal time to plant bulbs in this latitude is the latter part of October or early November.

FERTILIZER: We prefer decomposed cow manure spaded into the soil at a depth of 8 to 12 inches prior to planting. If commercial fertilizer is used, apply sparingly and work in thoroughly, leaving no lumps. An ideal practice is to apply fertilizer throughout the spring and summer. This will be of immense benefit to annual or perennial plants and will enrich the soil without danger of burning.

LOCATION: Most bulbs like a fairly sunny location but will grow satisfactorily in partial shade. Do not plant Tulips in the same bed year after year.

DEPTH: Plant Tulips, Hyacinths and Daffodils 6 inches deep; most smaller bulbs about 3 inches. Use a trowel (not a pointed stick), plant right side up, and firm the soil well.

MULCHING: In our latitude we believe a mulch is advisable. Apply in late November or December or after a 2-inch frost. Remove early in the spring. Hay, straw or evergreen boughs make an excellent mulch.

SPRING CARE: In the absence of liberal rainfall, water bulbs thoroughly. Do not sprinkle from overhead. After blooming, remove the seed pod and allow the foliage to die down naturally. When the foliage has turned brown, it should be removed. In cutting flowers for the home, leave as much foliage on the plant as possible.

DIGGING: Tulips can be left in the ground for two years; longer than that will diminish the size of blooms. Daffodils should be dug when they start to cluster, which is usually in three or four years. Most smaller bulbs can be left undisturbed. Bulbs can be dug the latter part of June or July, after the foliage has turned brown. Store in a cool, airy, dry place for the summer; then clean and plant again in the fall.

NARCISSUS or DAFFODILS

There is nothing more beautiful in the early springtime than a bed of Daffodils, and no garden is complete without a generous planting. Daffodils grow easily and become lovelier each year. They multiply rapidly. We offer only the finest heavy, double-nose bulbs, which usually throw two blooms each. We feel that this size is the best value.

DAFFODILS for Naturalizing

One of the loveliest of spring pictures is a naturalized planting of Daffodils; whether it is in open woodland, a grassy meadow, on the banks of a stream or on a sunny southern slope, the result is always beautiful.

This selection includes yellow trumpet varieties, doubles, medium-length yellow trumpets with red edges, Poeticus with red eyes, and the multi-flowering Poetaz.

For an informal drift of glorious Narcissus in woodlands and in borders, we recommend that they be lightly broadcast and planted where they fall, or they can be planted in groups and beds. Plant 6 inches deep and leave undisturbed.
